Stocks at London.

New York, Nov. 29.—The Evening Post's London financial cablegram says: Stocks were generally good here today, with a slight revival of activity in all the speculative markers. Speculative interest in Americans undoubtedly grows, but opinlass as regards a continuance of the rise are much divided. Those who are inclined to be pessimistic have an eye to the meeting of congress next month. The feature reday in Americans was the sharp ries in Central Profile, which was bought Americans closed under the best. New

New York, Nov. 28.—A slight reaction in tin and a stiffening of lead were the only changes of importance noted in to-day's metal market.
